Nature's Warning

Stevens Point People Must Recognize and Heed It.

Kidney ills come mysteriously.

If there are settlings and sediment,
Passages frequent, scanty, painful.
It's time to use Doan's Kidney Pills,
To ward off serious diseases.
Doan's have done great work in Stevens Point.

Charles H. Curtis, 128 Center street, Stevens Point, Wis., says: "I was almost disabled by a pain in the small of my back and often I was in such great misery that I could hardly dress. Finally I came to the conclusion that my kidneys were causing all my suffering and I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which were procured at Taylor's drug store. They acted promptly and improved my condition in every way. I publicly endorsed this remedy in 1908 and at the present time I am willing to confirm my former testimonial."

WILSON'S VIEWS ON IMMIGRANTS

Representatives of "Big Business" Misrepresent Him.

WHAT HE WROTE IN HISTORY.

He Did Not Say That All Those Coming From Poland, Italy and Hungary Were Undesirable—His War on Special Privilege Caused the Attacks.

By A. J. SCHMITZ,
Democratic Nominee For Governor of Wisconsin In 1910.

[Written for the Milwaukee Journal.]

Representatives and friends of so called "big business" enjoying special privileges and some friends of other candidates for the Democratic nomination for president have wrongfully and unjustly but diligently circulated reports charging Governor Woodrow Wilson with having said in his "History of the American People" that the immigrants to this country from Poland, Italy and Hungary were undesirable additions to our population and were, as citizens, inferior to the immigrants to this country from China.

The reports and charges so made and circulated are doing an injustice to Governor Wilson. He did not say that all the people who emigrated from Poland, Italy and Hungary to this country were undesirable additions to our population, could he say that Chinamen would make a better or better citizens than immigrants from those countries.

What Mr. Wilson Wrote

Governor Wilson says: "Throughout the century preceding the hundred years prior to 1880 men of sturdy stocks of the north of Europe had made up the main strains of foreign blood which was every year added to the vital working force of the country or else men of the Latin-Gaelic stocks of France and northern Italy."

When Governor Wilson speaks of the "sturdy stocks" coming to our shores from the "north of Europe" and "northern Italy," which added to our "vital working force," he certainly included in the quoted description of such immigrants the hundreds of thousands of people who came here from Poland prior to 1880 and those who came from Italy and became a part of us and contributed much toward the upbuilding of this country. Poland is a part of northern Europe, and her people who emigrated to this country prior to 1880 to become a part of us are certainly included in the complimentary description of Governor Wilson when speaking of the immigrants who came to this country prior to that time.

Change in Immigrants.

Governor Wilson speaks thus of some of the immigrants who came here from 1880 to 1890: "Immigrants poured steadily in as before, but with an alteration of stock which students of affairs marked with uneasiness." He speaks of the multitudes of men of the lowest class from the south of Italy and from Hungary and Poland, "men out of the ranks where there was neither skill nor energy nor any initiative of quick intelligence, men whose standards of life and work were such as American workmen have never dreamed of hitherto."

Importing Contract Labor.

The evil of importing contract labor into this country became so extensive that congress found it necessary to enact stringent laws making it a criminal offense, and there can be no question that the immigrants brought here by hundreds of thousands under contract were the ones referred to by Governor Wilson in his history. In speaking of that class he does not refer to all immigrants who came here during the period from 1880 to 1890 from the countries mentioned, but to that certain stock that came here during that period which made students of affairs feel uneasy.

The main opposition to Governor Wilson's nomination comes from these same protected monopolies and from the combines and trusts who imported the cheap pauper labor from Europe under contract to compete with and take the places of the native laborers and those who came here from all parts of Europe, including Italy, Hungary and Poland, because they wanted to come, whose ambition, energy and desire to better their condition caused them to leave their homes, relatives, friends and country.

Wrongs Done by Monopoly.

Governor Wilson more than any other candidate for president exposes with matchless ability the wrong done by monopoly and special privilege and with the same ability suggests sane and safe remedies for the wrongs to legitimate business and to our people. Because of this all the books, articles and letters he ever wrote are searched to find some words or lines that he has written about men or about nationalities or religion that may possibly with great ingenuity be construed to his injury. The representatives of monopolies and trusts know that by stirring up prejudice they can use a large body of good men, men who suffer most from monopoly and trusts, to defeat the man who fights their battles to wrench the government from the special privileged classes and restore representative government to our people.

Will the trust representatives succeed?

THE SAVIOR'S TEACHINGS
BROOKLYN TABERNACLE
BIBLE STUDIES

TEACHING BY PARABLES ONLY.

Matthew xiii, 34, 35—Sept. 29.

"The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life."—John vi. 63.

BIBLE students and Bible scholars have generally expressed surprise that the Great Teacher spoke always to the people in symbolic language, "dark sayings," the meaning of which they rarely understood. Another Scripture informs us that the reason was that the true revelation was not intended for the multitudes, but merely for the consecrated.

Those who accepted the Lord as the Savior, and took upon themselves the required vow of faithfulness in walking in His footsteps unto death, were granted special enlightenment: "To you it is given to know the mystery of the Kingdom of Heaven, but to outsiders these things are spoken in parables, that they might not see and understand."

"The words that I speak are spirit and life."

The entire matter is claimed when we recognize the difference between the salvation of the world to the human nature, during Messiah's reign of a thousand years, and the salvation provided for the Elect during this Age

The Apostles Jesus' Mouthpieces.

It has been claimed that the doctrines of Christianity can be better gathered from the writings of the Apostles than from the sayings of Jesus. There is considerable truth in this claim, and the reason is manifest: Jesus' words were addressed mainly to the multitudes, and when He addressed the disciples He could not discuss even with them deep, spiritual truths, because they had not been begotten of the Holy Spirit, and therefore could not understand spiritual things. Jesus declared, "I have many things to tell you, but ye cannot bear them now."

"After Ye Were Illuminated."

St. Paul gives the key in one of his Epistles, saying, "After ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions." (Hebrews x, 42.) The illumination received was the begetting of the Holy Spirit.—I Cor. ii, 12.

This has been true of all the members of the Body of Christ throughout this Age. Each one presenting his body a living sacrifice has been accepted by the great Advocate, and presented as a part of His own Offering; then the offerer has been begotten of the Holy Spirit to be a New Creature in Christ.

It is to these New Creatures that the statement is made, "All things are yours, for ye are Christ's, and Christ is God's." To these the Bible has promised, "He will show you things to come." These are to be guided into all Truth as it becomes due. For these the Word of God is a Storehouse, from which "things both new and old" are produced under the Spirit's guidance, as they become "meat in due season."

Even these must make progress in their appreciation of spiritual things. The Apostle urges such: "As new born babes desire the sincere milk of the Word, that ye might grow thereby."

Now our text: "The words that I speak unto you, they are spirit and they are life." Here our Lord endeavored to impress His dear disciples with the thought that they should not take His words too literally, but look for the deeper meaning. And, they were to remember that they could not get that deep meaning until after the Master's ascension; as He said, "It is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away the Holy Spirit will not come unto you; but if I go away I will send Him unto you."

The Master's words were "words of life" in that they conveyed the great Message of the terms upon which we may have everlasting life and become His joint-heirs. Although the Apostles explain the philosophy of the Divine Plan in great detail, more than did Jesus, yet in His sayings we find the very essence of the Gospel. Nowhere are the terms of discipleship more carefully laid down than in Jesus' words, because the disciples could understand the meaning of self denial, cross-bearing, and walking in His steps, even if they could not understand the philosophy of justification, sanctification, election and Divine foreknowledge.

"This is a hard saying."

From Jesus' words more clearly than from any others we get the thought of the "water of life," and how it is now in His followers a "spring" of truth, grace and everlasting life. Nowhere else do we more clearly get the statement that the Father hath life in Himself, and hath granted unto the Son life in Himself, and that He might share this life with His disciples. Thus, as St. Paul says, the words of this salvation began to be spoken by our Lord. He brought life and immortality to light, both the general reward of everlasting life to be given to the world, and the special reward to be granted to the Church.

Valuable Testimony.

The lawyer shook his finger warningly at the witness and said: "Now, we want to hear just what you know, not what some one else knows or what you think, or anything of that kind, but what you know. Do you understand?"

"Waal, I know," said the witness, with emphasis, as he lifted one limber leg and laid it across the other—"I know that Clay Grubbs said that Bill Thomson told him that he heard John Thomas' wife tell Sid Shuford's gal that her husband was there when the fight tuk place and that he said that they slung each other around in the bushes right consid'able." — Philadelphia Telegraph.

If.

If the shoemaker stuck to his last
And the tailor should cling to his goose,
If the sailor remained on the mast
And the hangman held fast to his noose.
If the barber should cling to his shears
And the banker should stay in his bank,
If the butcher should spend all his years
Merely pushing pigs into a tank,
If the carpenter clung to his saw
And the farmer held fast to his hoe,
If the lawyer stayed close to the law
And the baker kept minding his dough,
If the billposters stuck to their bills
And the bricklayers only laid bricks
And the doctors turned only to pills
Where should we find people to mix
In politics?

The Suffragist Version.

"'This is Mr. Hattie Smith Williams,' a male voice replied. 'Is my wife, Mrs. Hattie Smith Williams, there?'

"'No; goodby,' was the prompt and curt reply.

"'But how do you know?' protested Mr. Smith Williams. 'You haven't had the time to make a search.'

"'No need to make a search, sir,' said the porter. 'Nobody's wife is ever here. Rule of the club.'"—New York Tribune.

MAN AND THE SOIL.

Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, author of the Common Sense Medical Adviser, says "why does not the farmer treat his own body as he treats the land he cultivates. He puts back in phosphate what he takes out in crops, or the land would grow poor. The farmer should put back into his body the vital elements exhausted by labor, or by ill-health induced by some chronic disease." Further, he says, "the great value of my Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is in its vitalizing power. It gives strength to the stomach and purity to the blood. It is like the phosphates which supply nature with the substances that build up the crops. The far-reaching action of is due to its effect on the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases that begin in the stomach are cured through the stomach. A bilious spell is simply the result of an effort made by the liver to catch up when over-worked and exhausted. I have found the 'Discovery' to be unsurpassed as a liver regulator and rich blood-maker."

MISS LOTTIE KNISELY of Perth, Kansas, says: "I will here add my testimony of the effectiveness of your remedy upon myself. I was troubled with indigestion for two years or more. Doctored with three different doctors besides taking numerous kinds of so-called 'stomach cures' but received no permanent relief. I was run down, could not sleep at night with the pain in my chest, caused by gas on the stomach. Was weak, could eat scarcely anything although I was hungry nearly all the time. About one year and a half ago I began taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after having taken several bottles am nearly cured of stomach trouble. Can now eat without distress and have gained fifteen pounds in weight.

I thank you for your remedy and wish you all success in your good work."

SPELLING IN ENGLAND.

They Say Over There It Is Chaotic, and They Seek to Reform It.

A campaign in favor of spelling reform is to be conducted in London and the provinces in the autumn and winter.

Mr. William Archer, under the auspices of the Simplified Spelling society, is to conduct a lecturing tour on his return from the east, and lectures will also be delivered by many other well known men throughout the country.

The lectures will advocate the reform of what they regard as the present "chaotic spelling," which they declare is so remote from pronunciation that it is no guide to the English language at all and tends to degrade our speech.

The society desires to fix a standard of pronunciation of the English language throughout the empire.

It has been stated that the English people overseas, particularly in Australia and South Africa, are deviating so seriously from the general standard of speech prevailing in the mother country that the time might come when visitors from these parts of the empire might fail to make themselves understood in London.

Mr. Tate, director of education in Melbourne, has suggested several spelling reforms to which effect has been given in the official papers issued by his department. Discussions have taken place, and the council of public education in Melbourne is addressing a letter to the president of the board of education in London urging upon him, in the interest of education, the necessity of a general adoption of a simplified reform of spelling.—London Chronicle.

The value of the crops of the country increased by $2,488,000,000 in ten years. That ought to make every farmer feel like buying an automobile.

The Men Who Succeed

As heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success today demands health. To ail is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at H. D. McCulloch Co.'s.

Any burglar with pride in his calling will blush when he reads that one of the profession broke into a butcher shop, got away with the cash drawer and overlooked a beefsteak that was lying in plain sight.
